それでは英文を読みます。

25/26

For a long time, scientists could only imagine what planets far away were like. Now, they are able to see them as telescope technology has improved so much. In the past 30 years, scientists have found over 4,000 planets. They are finding new ones every week.

There are many types of such planets. Some are so hot that any water on them has boiled away. Others are so cold that they are forever frozen in ice. However, a few of these worlds are similar to ours. Like the Earth, they have a rocky surface and liquid water. Scientists are especially interested in these planets. They believe that the easiest way to find them is to look near stars that are smaller and darker than our own sun. By searching around these stars, scientists have found about 50 planets like the Earth.

Michael : Yuki, eco-products, or earth-friendly goods, seem to be very popular in Japan.

Yuki : Yes, that's because we're really worried about our environment. As you know, global warming is said to be a serious problem.

Michael : I see. Do you have any eco-products at home?

Yuki : Yes, my father bought a "hybrid" car last year.

Michael : What's that? Is it the same as an electric car?

Yuki : No. It runs on a combination of gasoline and electricity, so it consumes less gasoline than an ordinary car. This means it produces less CO₂, which is the main cause of global warming.

Michael : That sounds great. Are they also less expensive than ordinary cars?

Yuki : I'm afraid not. They are getting cheaper, though.

Michael : Even if you can save money on fuel, if "hybrid" cars are expensive, not many people will buy them, I suppose.

Yuki : The Japanese government is encouraging us to buy eco-cars. When my father bought his, the government offered some money and reduced taxes.

Michael : That's generous.

Yuki : Why don't you buy a "hybrid" car like my father?

Michael : I wish I could, but I don't have enough money now. Next time I buy a car, I might.

次に問いの文を読みます。

3036 Question a. Why does Yuki think eco-products are very popular in Japan?

Jim : Hi, Emi. Yesterday was your birthday, right? Happy Birthday!

Emi : Thanks, Jim. I've just turned 16. Are you still 15?

Jim : Yes, my birthday is on November 18th. Did you get a lot of presents?

Emi : Oh, yes. My parents gave me a book of poems, my aunt gave me a lovely doll and I also got some chocolates and notebooks from my friends.

Jim : You have a nice bag. Was that also a birthday present?

Emi : Actually, it's not a bag but just a cloth. It's called "furoshiki." The doll my aunt sent me was wrapped in it. We can use it like a bag. Look! Today I've wrapped these books in it.

Jim : Just a cloth? How cool! But you can't wrap big items.

Emi : My furoshiki isn't that big, but there are many different sizes.

Jim : Really? They must be very useful.

Emi : I heard some people use them instead of plastic bags when they go to supermarkets or convenience stores.

Jim : Oh, that's eco-friendly.

Emi : That's right. I think more people should use furoshiki to save the earth.

Jim : I should buy one because I want to use less plastic.

Emi : You should! Anyway, I must go to the library to return these books. See you in the classroom.
