The International Space Station moves around the Earth every ninety minutes. There are usually three to ten ^{*1}astronauts on the station and they work there for six months.

Astronauts have small cabins and they sleep in sleeping bags. Many astronauts have problems sleeping. It's noisy and hard to stop moving. Washing is difficult and they can't take a shower. Astronauts eat three times a day. There isn't much fresh food and the rest is dried.

Astronauts work about eleven hours a day. They do ^{*2}experiments, write reports, and talk to scientists on Earth. Sometimes they do spacewalks to check the space station. They also exercise about two hours a day. On the weekend astronauts clean the station.

There is time to relax. There are astronauts from different countries on the station and the ^{*3}atmosphere is great. Astronauts watch movies, read, listen to music, use the Internet, or play cards. But their favorite thing to do is watching our beautiful Earth. It's never ^{*4}boring!

^{*1}astronaut(s) : 宇宙飛行士 ^{*2}experiment(s) : 実験

^{*3}atmosphere : 雰囲気 ^{*4}boring : 退屈な
